Run-Off Elections Today for Frosh and Reps-at-Large

With only one candidate having been definitely elected, today is the final day for the run-off election for Freshman class officers and representatives-at-large.

Julian Kaufman, an unopposed candidate for representative-at-large with over 60 units, was the only candidate elected.

Today's run-offs will be held between Richard Singleton and Ed Sullivan for Freshman class president; Evangeline Powell and Tom Saunders for vice president; and Francyne Gallo and Sheila MacLeod for secretary-treasurer.

Competing candidates for representatives-at-large on the Associated Students' Board of Directors are; Under 32 units, Kenneth Dempster, Al Esser, and Gerda Greer; 32 to 60 units, Dale Christensen and Peggy Stewart.

Election polls will be in the foyer of the Redwood Room and in front of the Library, and will be open between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. today. Only Freshmen can vote for class officers but voting for representatives-at-large is open to every member of the student body.

Talent Performs In Sports Show

The San Francisco State campus will be the scene of the annual "Sports Night" presented by Phi Epsilon Mu fraternity tonight at 8 o'clock in the men's gymnasium.

Honored guest and master of ceremonies for the evening will be "Bud" Foster, well-known Bay Area sportscaster.

Also on the program will be such athletic personalities as Marty Krum, member of the U. S. 1952 Olympic Soccer team; Delia Muelenkamp, a member of the 1952 Olympic Swimming team; Barbara Stark, National AAU Swimming champion; Larry McNesby, coach of the National Champion Trampoline team; Sam Slavich, the World's Champion speed bag puncher; an all-star roller skating act from San Francisco's Skate-

New Era in Student Government?

Next week Student Body President Bob Horn will call a meeting of campus organizations for the purpose of informing them of their status in the new Organizations Board. The assembled clubs will group themselves into the councils, whose representatives will compose the newly formed board.

Although the new plan smacks somewhat of minority control, it has in it the prospects of becoming a working organization, something which the Club Advisory Association never has been.

We cannot help commending the Board of Directors and Bob Horn for the courage and foresight shown in their realization that the CAA as it stood was unworkable, and in their active and immediate substitution of a more sensible solution to the problem of organization representation on campus.

The recognition by the Board of Directors of the fact that CAA was a more-or-less traditional function of on-campus life had little or no bearing on its efficiency is remarkable in itself.

Traditionally the Board of Directors is a conservative body, resisting change and fearful of breaking or setting a precedent. These past few weeks they (at least in the case of the Organizations Board) have broken through that tradition in a highly spectacular and satisfactory manner.

We hope that this week's action is indicative of a change in attitude, a receptiveness to new ideas not shown by the board in the past. It may be the beginning of a new era in student government at San Francisco State College.

Profits and Funds Fill Board Needs

At their October 27 meeting, the Board of Control allotted $165 to purchase three new typewriters for student activities use.

The money for the typewriters will be taken out of student body card funds at a rate of $33 a year for five years. One machine will be placed in the business office, one in Bob Horn's office and one in the Activities Committee office.

It was reported that the coke machine in Hut T-1 is netting $10 a month. This fund may be used to hire secretaries to take notes at board meetings. Bill Spry is investigating the possibilities of such a move.

Jack Lynch was appointed as head of a committee to find out what improvements should be made on Hut T-1.

Alice Pappas and Dean Wells were appointed to find out the

Senior class and organization pictures for the 1955 Franciscan will be taken November 8-12.

The cost of the organization pictures will be 50 cents, which will include two proofs.

- Men must wear white shirts for the pictures and women must wear drapes. The drapes will be furnished.

January and June graduates are urged to make this sitting if they were unable to have their pictures taken last week.

STENOGRAPHERS ARE NEEDED BY U. N. COMMITTEE

Stenographers are needed by the Fifth Annual Model United Nations Conference Committee to assist in the planning involved in making this occasion a success.

Applicants for the positions need not have professional experience but just a desire to do a worthwhile job for the students of San Francisco State College.

If you are interested please leave your address and phone number at the Business Offices of the ASSFSC, Hut T-1.

Nominations for Queen to Be Held Next Tuesday

The on-campus organizations will kick-off the Homecoming activities with a queen's nomination taking place at 1 p. m., November 9 in the men's gym.

The girls will be nominated by the different organizations in a manner similar to that of political conventions. Each organization will sit with their selected queen under a banner bearing the name of their group.

The purpose of the nominations will be to introduce the candidates for queen to the members of the student body, and to stimulate greater interest in the Homecoming activities.

At present 34 organizations representing 200 students have taken part in the planning of Homecoming activities. According to Activities Commissioner Karl Knuth, an even greater participation is expected in the next few weeks.

Lacosta Crowned Campus King

Campus News Service

Before an estimated audience of 500, Bob Lacosta was crowned S. F. State's Campus King at the "Night in Wonderland" dance in the Women's Gym Friday, October 29.

Bob was sponsored by the Phi Lambda Chi sorority. The dance, which followed the Nevada-S. F. State football game, was co-sponsored by Alpha Chi Alpha sorority and Delta Phi Gamma fraternity.

INTERNATIONAL BALL HEADS IRC MEETING

Officially opening the regional conference of International Relations Clubs of Northern California and Nevada, the IRC of San Francisco State will hold a dance in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis Hotel, Wednesday, November 10.

Registration of delegates will take place at 8:00 and the dance will follow at 9:00 p. m. Bids are priced at $3.00 per couple.

Leonard Says Requirements Should Vary With Programs; Change Needed Before Spring

By SUE CASTER, Gater Assistant News Editor

The Legislative Counsel Bureau last Saturday overruled Attorney General Edmund G. Brown's ruling that State education officials cannot limit admissions to California State colleges.

In opposition, the bureau stated that qualified applicants can be denied admission to these colleges under the existing provisions of law set up by the State Board of Education. According to the San Francisco Examiner, in a formal reply to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, legislative counsel and legal adviser Ralph N. Kleps said, "To the extent that the number of qualified applicants for admission exceeds the number which the director of education determines is the maximum enrollment that can reasonably be accommodated at a particular State college, such applicants can be denied."

BOARD HAS POWER

Brown's ruling was the result of the raising of entrance requirements to cope with expected student increases by the presidents of San Francisco State, San Jose State, San Diego State, and Sacramento State Colleges. The Attorney General said that neither a State college nor Roy E. Simpson as Superintendent of Public Instruction has this authority which is held exclusively by the State Board of Education.

In effect, he said that anyone able to meet the scholastic requirements of the college has the right to be admitted to that college.

Simpson replied, "It is one thing to say that colleges cannot limit enrollments and another to get the money to build adequate facilities and provide the teachers to accommodate more students. The colleges must live within their budgets."

500 TURNED AWAY

The problem of limiting admission arose this fall when all State colleges were forced to turn away hundreds of students because of inadequate space and staff. As a means of meeting the problem, colleges upped their entrance requirements above the minimum scholastic eligibility standards set by the State Board of Education.

At the beginning of the semester, S. F. State turned away 500 students. S. F. State President J. Paul Leonard stated, "Our budget does not permit us to take care of any more students than we now have. In fact, we now have 500 more students than the budget calls for. I do not know what will happen in the coming spring semester."

LEONARD STATEMENT

In regard to entrance requirements, Leonard said, "Requirements should vary in accordance with the different college programs. For example, Humboldt State and Chico State have junior colleges connected with their programs; Fresno State's program is primarily centered around agriculture and

CAA Replaced by New Organizations Board

The Organizations Board, which will replace the recently abolished Club Advisory Association, was formally voted upon and approved by the Board of Directors on November 2.

As stated in the proposed draft of amendment, "The Organizations Board will be responsible for the administration of the affairs of this association as may pertain to its subsidiary on-campus organizations." The board will make recommendations concerning this association to the Board of Directors and shall take the necessary action to enforce existing policies.

VICE PRESIDENT CHAIRMAN

"The Organizations Board shall consist of the vice president of the association, who shall be chairman, the president, secretary, treasurer, and activities commissioner of this association, the presiding officers of the organizational councils . . . and one faculty member-at-large, who shall be nominated by the Organizations Board and appointed by the president of the college."

The on-campus organizations which are under the authority of this association will be represented on the Organizations Board through their councils. These councils shall consist of the Class Council, the Honor-

Wind Quintet Performs Here Tuesday Night

The New Art Wind Quintet of New York City, will appear, on its second transcontinental tour, at S. F. State on Tuesday, November 9, at 8:15 p. m., in the Main Auditorium. This program is the first in the series of chamber music concerts sponsored by the newly created Chamber Music Center of S. F. State's Music Department. (For further information on the chamber music series, see story on Page 2.)

The Creative Arts

.... By ROBERT M. KLANG

When we speak about the Bay Area's good music radio station, KEAR, we will not talk about the "GOOD MUSIC" station. In other words, we will in no way qualify those two words. We will not sneer, as many groups have, at a cultural activity which is too often neglected in this great industrial society of ours. Only ill advised and poorly trained persons, reflecting an unbalanced society, will speak sneeringly of any group which practices the art of Bach or Beethoven.

Indeed, KEAR, with its good music policy, is a welcomed enterprise in Northern California. But something has happened to KEAR in recent weeks. Its transmission, programming, announcing and general continuity are not what they have been in the past. And the trouble, as most of us have observed, is that two unions, the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA) and the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians (NABET), are on strike against the good music station.

LABOR DIFFICULTY

Because of our interest in KEAR we have spent much time trying to learn whether it is management or labor who is at fault, and we, unfortunately, have had to adopt the belief that those who determine the policies of the good music station are causing KEAR listeners disappointment in the kind of relations they are trying to hold with their employees and the two organizations which represent the employees.

KEAR claims that because it is licensed in a small city (San Mateo), it should not have to pay its announcers and engineers wages the same as paid radio station announcers and engineers in the San Francisco metropolitan area. The good music station also uses this "small city" excuse in its argument against its necessity of having as large an operating staff as those in stations in San Francisco. (This makes it necessary for individual announcers and technicians at KEAR to carry a much heavier work schedule than the ordinary San Francisco radio station operating staff member.)

BECOME QUITE BIG

At the same time KEAR is "crying" that AFTRA and NABET want it, "a small station in a small city," to pay regular metropolitan radio wages and offer its announcers and engineers fair working conditions, it is greatly expanding KEAR was for a long time a 100-watt station. Now a 10,000-watt transmitter makes KEAR the most powerful independent station in Northern California. Also the small San Mateo station is now originating over 90 per cent of its programs from new studios at Number One Nob Hill Circle, San Francisco. Finally, and this shows the extent to which hypocrisy is involved in KEAR's argument against the unions, Mr. Steven A. Cisler, president of the station, is applying for an F.C.C. license for San Francisco.

In short, KEAR is trying to become a big station in a large metropolitan area without pay-

Met Star Makes Local Debut; Tickets On Sale

Tickets are now on sale in the Student Body office for the recital of soprano Florence Quartararo, Metropolitan Opera star. Miss Quartararo will appear on Friday, November 19, 1954, at Berkeley High School Community Theatre.

Tickets are $1.75, $1.20, $1.65 and $1.10 including tax.

Concert Series Begins Here

Money donated to the college by the May T. Morrison Trust Fund will be used for nine free concerts of chamber music which will be presented this semester at San Francisco State College.

Mr. Ferenc Molnar will head the concert series, and all, with the exception of the December 5 concert, will be held in the Creative Arts Main Auditorium.

The majority of the artists participating in the series will be from off campus with the stress of the program laid upon presentation of a variety of nationally known musicians. Among the world-famous groups appearing will be the San Francisco String Quartet.

Concert Chairman Ferenc Molnar has been in the music field for 30 years and has made two European concert tours. He has participated in 13 international concerts all over the world and is now playing in the San Francisco Symphony and is an instructor in music at San Francisco State College.

The series:

Nov. 9—The New Art Wind Quartet of New York.

Dec. 5—The Hollywood Quartet of Los Angeles. This concert will be an experiment in Sunday afternoon concerts.

Jan. 4—San Francisco String Quartet, with N. Blinder as soloist and Alice Wolske as pianist.

Feb. 15—San Francisco String Quartet, with Boris Blinder as cellist and Isabel Hesselberg as pianist.

March 8—Mixed ensemble including the harp, violin, viola, cello, and flute.

March 23—San Francisco String Quartet, with Ferenc Molnar as violinist and Jane Hofffield as pianist.

April 12—San Francisco String Quartet, with Frank Houser and his violin and Vladimir Brenner.

May 10—Fara Nelsova, an internationally known cellist with Jane Hofffield in a sonata recital.

Campus Club Notes

For the use and convenience of on-campus organizations desiring to post official notices of meetings and activities for the benefit of their members, a bulletin board has been placed in the Activities Room of Hut T-1. The size of notices is limited to 8x10 and the board must be kept neat. It is the responsibility of each organization to remove its notices after each function.

The Board of Directors extends a welcome and congratulations to three new organizations who have recently acquired on-campus status: These are Font Hall, the Student Baptist Union, and the San Francisco State "Y."

Students may sign up for either permanent or temporary committees under the Board of Directors. Those interested should see Bob Horn personally or leave their names in the box outside Bob's office in Hut T-1.

Anne Marie Olson suggests that some on-campus organizations can perform a worthwhile service for themselves and others by painting, installing, and labeling new P. O. boxes.

According to Ann Marie, the present boxes are in a deplorable condition, some being practically useless. Boxes and material are available but manpower is needed. If interested, contact Bill Spry, business manager of Associated Students, business office, Hut T-1.

Recently the Associated Students received a letter from Lyle Gibson, associate professor of geography, saying that during his recent visit to the University of Hiroshima he noticed that the grounds of their new campus were slowly becoming less barren. This vegetation in the atom-bomb destroyed area is the result of donations of trees and bushes from universities and colleges in the United States. Mr. Gibson suggests that San Francisco State add its name to the contributions through an organization on campus that would be interested in making this a project.

McClelland, Lantos Discuss National Election Issues

Before a strongly Democratic audience, two faculty members, one representing each major political party, grasped for the issues of the 1954 elections last Thursday.

MCCARTHYISM OPPOSED

To Dr. McClelland, history professor, the important issues were Republican moderation as opposition to McCarthyism; the Republican foreign policy emphasizing diplomacy over economic assistance; the future direction of social and economic development in the United States; and a revival of "old-fashioned American morality," traditionally a responsibility of the Republican party.

Dr. Lantos, an economics professor, pointed to the Republican legislative and executive records, which he termed "a record of broken promises," as the most important issue, along with Republican foreign policy, "a record of bluff and blunder."

Dr. McClelland maintained that the "middle" Republicans, rather than the Democrats, were responsible for the toning down of McCarthyism, asserting that the extremists of both left and right respectively are the responsibilities of the Democratic and Republican parties.

MORALITY ISSUE

He emphasized the issue of morality especially, and called for a "resurrection of pride in nationality." Indicating a call for respect for "quality performance," Dr. McClelland said, "This is not the century of the Common Man. We can't afford it. Because the population of the United States is relatively small, the nation must have quality performance to make up to its lack in manpower," he maintained.

Dr. Lantos attacked Congress' record on farm legislation, on federal aid to education, and on Communism, calling the latter "one of the phoniest issues of the Republican campaign; for in the past two years, not a single active Communist has

SLOGANS CRITICIZED

"Democrats used to worry that if the Republicans got in office that they would sell the TVA," Lantos continued. "We don't have to worry about that any longer; they're giving it away." On the issue of morality presented by Dr. McClelland, Dr. Lantos commented that "the Republican party does not have a monopoly on morality," citing several examples of Republican corruption, and adding that slogans and symbols not backed by actions do not constitute morality. "The Republican administration has been characterized as 'benefits for the few, prayers for the many,'" he concluded.

Both candidates, speaking before an overflow crowd in the Little Theatre, criticized the major political parties in their use of slogans in place of true political controversy.

ounces, Alice made her debut in San Francisco. By the time she was 10, the Pappas family had moved to Oakland, where Alice attended Golden Gate elementary school, and later Golden Gate Junior High School.

Her high school years were spent at Oakland Tech, where Alice was an active participant in school activities, and also worked on the school paper, the SCRIBE.

Enrolling at the old campus in 1950 for the same old reason, "because I had a lot of friends coming here," Alice became quite active in school activities. She considers her election to the office of student body vice president as one of the "most valuable experiences I've ever had."

An English major with an Art minor, Alice plans to enter the General Secondary field and ultimately the Administrative field.

Region Delegates Of IRC Meet Here

San Francisco State will host delegates from regional colleges and universities for the Conference of International Relations Clubs of Northern California and Nevada, November 10, 11, and 12.

Opening the discussion phases of the conference will be a Coffee Hour in the College Union, 10:30 a. m., November 11 followed by a general meeting, Room 104, BSS.

The general theme of discussions will be "The Picture of Underdeveloped Areas." Round-table discussions will include four sub-topics pertaining to the subject as follows: 1—How should such aid be financed; 2—Should aid be nation-to-nation or through an international organization; 3—What conditions or "strings" should be attached to this aid; and 4—How can student exchange programs be related to this problem.

Sami Judah, vice president of the IRC of Northern California and Nevada, "emphatically urges" S. F. State IRC members, as well as other students interested in the subject on discussion, to attend the conference.

Sigma Beta Club Plans Outing

The Sigma Beta Music Club is sponsoring a picnic November 7 at Lake Anza. All members are invited to attend the affair and bring a friend.

The group will assemble at 10 a. m. at 707 12th avenue near Fulton street in San Francisco. Also those attending are asked to bring their own lunch and bathing suit.

For information concerning transportation, students may phone either BA 1-1954 or BA 1-3323, or contact Dr. Wheelwright in CA 208.

ED FRATERNITY ELECTS

At a recent meeting of Kappa Delta Pi, officers for 1954-55 were installed.

Officers are: President, David Belrose; vice president, Lois Frichette; treasurer, Allan Bushnell; and secretary, Carol Pult.

Kappa Delta Pi is an honor society in education aimed at promoting high standards in preparation for the teaching field. A meeting for all members has been planned for 7 p. m., November 7, in BSS 106.

Calendar

FRIDAY, Nov. 5—Phi Epsilon Mu Sports Night, 8 p. m., Men's Gym.

SATURDAY, Nov. 6—Football Game, 8 p. m., Humboldt State vs. San Francisco State in Arcata.

SUNDAY, Nov. 7—Kappa Delta Pi meeting, 7 to 10 p. m., BSS 106. Sigma Beta Music Club picnic, Lake Anza.

TUESDAY, Nov. 9—IRC tour of oil refinery, 8 a. m. Model U. N., 12:15 to 1:15 p. m., BSS 119. Westminster Foundation, 1 to 2 p. m., CA 116. Psych Club, 2 to 4 p. m., Ed 302. Molnar Concert, Creative Arts Concert Hall, 8:30 p. m. Board of Directors meeting, 4 p. m., Hut T-1.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 10—Lutheran Club, 12 to 1 p. m., BSS 134. Music Fed Jazz Concert, 12 to 2 p. m., Main Auditorium. IRC dance, 9 p. m. to 1 a. m., Colonial Room, St. Francis Hotel.

THURSDAY, Nov. 11—Armistice Day, classes dismissed.

FRIDAY, Nov. 12—Association of IRC Conference, Beta Chi and Music Fed dance, following game to 1 p. m., women's gym. Football game, Sacramento State vs. San Francisco State, 8 p. m., Cox Stadium.

Applications Available For Student Scholarship

According to Dean Wells, applications for academic scholarships in the fields of social science, education, and theology are now available.

College juniors who will devote eight weeks or more during the summer between their junior and senior years to research in the scientific study of human behavior are offered an Undergraduate Research Stipend of $600 by the Social Science Research Council. Those interested must apply through the social science division by December 15.

THEOLOGY FELLOWSHIP

For graduating seniors interested in exploring the possibility of entering the vocation of the Protestant ministry, a scholarship is being offered by the Theological Fellowship Program. Men and women who are interested should see Dr. Fisk by December 15.

Smatter of Opinion

The following is the opinion of Mr. Stephen T. Davis, and does not necessarily represent that of the college, the Associated Students, or the Golden Gater.

By STEPHEN T. DAVIS

To Ray Fry, for his performance as Richard III, Meryl Britton for hers as Margaret, and Dolores McDougal for hers as the Duchess of York, we extend our warmest congratulations, and our gratitude for providing moments of creative dramatic interpretation which we will not soon forget.

The idea is becoming increasingly popular that the goal of American education is "adjustment"—not the formulation and understanding of basic human problems, not the amelioration of unfavorable societal conditions, not creation, but the "rounding out" of the personality to fit the moth-holes of contemporary civilization.

In acknowledgement of this movement, we suggest the erection on our campus of an appropriate memorial.

Our first proposal is a replica of the entrance to Dante's Inferno, supplemented by a large statue of an entering freshman, with a dial on her forehead, a knob over her heart, and various levers and meters distributed strategically over her torso. The caption, "Be adjusted, all ye who enter here."

We further suggest the assumption of the foetal position during classroom lectures, in recognition of that period during which the living organism is most "adjusted" to its environment.

its conformity-normalcy synthesis, has reached a point where it threatens to destroy the few positive values which Western man has managed to preserve during the course of his turbulent history. The fountainhead of what progress we have achieved has been dissatisfaction, restlessness, and rebellion. But today the dissatisfied are frustrated neurotics who were perhaps not suckled long enough during their infancy, the restless really crave a return to the peace of pre-parturition, and the rebel is an incipient psychopath with presecution complexes, type 365-BJ, graph five, off median center on the descending curve 38 per cent.

The idea of general education and such popular psychology as represented by the Overstreets, seems to be the creation of well-rounded personalities with a variability of zero, a social consciousness of zero, and a creative drive of zero.

In terms of well-rounded personalities, we suggest this movement adopt as its emblem, the very well-rounded eight ball.

EDITORIAL

Last week the Activities Committee entered politics. During the election assembly which also included capping ceremonies for members of the committee, candidates who are members of that committee were, in effect, endorsed by the Activities Commissioner.

Those who were "fortunate" enough to be a member of the committee were singled out by the Activities Commissioner as "kids who really have a lot of spirit." They were then called to the center of the stage, given their caps, and returned to their seats to sit among their capless rivals.

While we have no quarrel with the actual capping ceremony, although we think the whole idea is a little silly, we do feel that there has been a serious breach of democratic principles in implying preference to the members of a particular group. The breach is made even more serious by the fact that it issued from a supposedly impartial branch of student body government.

This act is comparable to a situation in which the student body president issues a slate of candidates which he prefers, an act which would bring an immediate outcry of "unfair." The Activity Committee neglect of the principles of political fair play passed almost unnoticed.

We hope that this serious mistake was unintentional. But whether it was or not, the evidences of lack of consideration for fair practices and the neglect of long-recognized campus democratic attitudes cannot be ignored.

MAKE $25

Want to pick up $25? Make up a Lucky Droodle and send it in. It's easy.

If you want to find out just how easy it is, ask Roger Price, creator of Droodles. "Very!" Price says. Better yet, do a Droodle yourself, like the ones shown here.

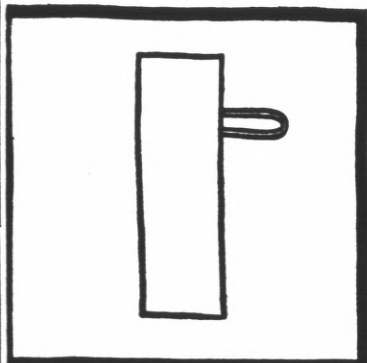

Droodle anything you like. And send in as many as you want. If we select yours, we'll pay $25 for the right to use it, together with your name, in our advertising. We're going to print plenty—and lots that we don't print will earn $25 awards.

Draw your Droodles any size, on any piece of paper, and send them with your descriptive titles to Lucky Droodle, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure your name, address, college and class are included.

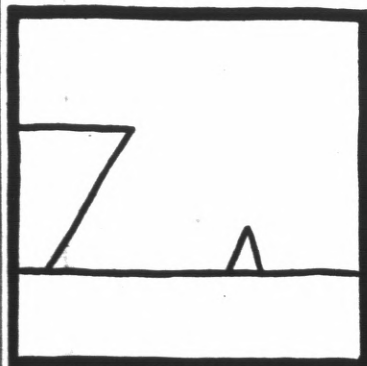

While you're droodling, light up a Lucky—the cigarette that tastes better because it's made of fine tobacco . . . and "It's Toasted" to taste better.

Library Hours

Editor—I am wondering how many students at San Francisco State College are having the same difficulty as I regarding library hours. In my case, study must be done in the late afternoon and evening but the library is closed at 8 p. m.

This hardly allows for sufficient time to get anything accomplished in the evening hours since the dinner hour runs from 6 through 7 o'clock, leaving one hour only for evening study. Also, the week end offers an opportunity for serious, uninterrupted study, but the library closes at 1 p. m. on Saturday and is not open on Sunday.

I believe that a school as large and progressive as San Francisco State College should recognize this fundamental and pressing need of so large a student body and provide optimum study and research facilities.

We have excellent physical facilities in the form of a top-quality library, but are limited quite seriously in its hours of availability.

I would recommend that the hours be extended to 10 p. m. on week days and 5 p. m. on Saturdays with Sunday hours from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m.

I believe that the limited hours now in effect constitute a denial of higher education toward an aggressive student body of the type desired on this campus.

I am anxious to find out how much backing such a proposal will have from my fellow students. Name Withheld by Request.

Frosh Spirit Commended

FRESHMAN CLASS:

Dear Members—The Board of Directors wishes to commend you for the excellent job on the Dedication Fund Raising Drive. The success of your part of the drive is amazing, considering that you accomplished such satisfactory results without class organization or officers.

It is spirit such as yours that will make San Francisco State College more outstanding. We sincerely thank you for your efforts. Please keep up the good work. Sincerely yours,
BOARD OF DIRECTORS,
ASSFSC.

Dedication Week

Editor—I am proud to be an elected officer. During Dedication Week I felt this pride to the fullest extent. Saturday morning, October 16, a little of that pride was tarnished—by the absence of a representative group of the 7350 students who attend this college. During the tours led on campus many visitors asked one question—where are the students? Saturday morning I asked myself the same question. Any student has the right to criticize a student officer. I claim that same right in criticizing those students who did not attend their own Dedication. Fortunately Dedication was a success in spite of this condition.

This is not a unique situation, attendance of activities should not suffer from an irresponsible student body. Where are the students? Where will the students be in relation to future activities? I challenge an answer.

ALICE PAPPAS,
Vice President,
A.S.S.F.S.C.

Student Work Hailed

MR. ROBERT HORN,
President, Associated Students,
Campus.

Dear Bob—Dedication has been a great success and has contributed much to helping the community understand the nature of our college program. It has also reported to the people of San Francisco what we have been doing as we constructed this new plant, and it has made them aware of the needs we have in the future.

One of the reasons for the success has been the fine cooperation of the students in serving on various committees, and on many functions where they were required to be good hosts.

I want to take this opportunity to thank all of those in the student body who participated so generously and successfully. I am sure we can all look back upon the week as being one of the highlights of our college life.

J. PAUL LEONARD,
President.

Disagrees With Davis

Editor—Mr. Stephen Davis has used his extensive vocabulary of 25-cent words to ridicule the student body of this college. In his article October 22 he directly or indirectly voiced his disapproval of all on-campus social activities.

If it is immature to belong to a campus organization such as a fraternity or sorority then I am "immature." If "primitive ritualism" is what I would represent were I to run for a student body office, then I suppose I could be called an "immature aborigine." And if working on the Dedication or a blood drive or supporting the football team or going to a rally is being an "exhibitionist," I suppose I can be classified as an "immature, aboriginal exhibitionist!"

I plead guilty to all these "crimes" and yet I still have the nerve to say, "I'm proud of this school." Perhaps it would please Mr. Davis if all attempts at gaiety or spirit would be outlawed on this campus and the name of the school changed to "San Francisco Stoic College." BERNIE JOHNSTON.

Endorse Sloppy Writing?

Editor—I want to express my concern for your apparent disapproval of Mr. Davis' opinions and your apparent endorsement of sloppy writing such as Mr. Klang displayed in the first paragraph of his critique on Mr. Brenner's piano playing.

Naturally, Mr. Davis' opinions are his own; but so are

Mr. Klang's. However, there is one quality in Mr. Davis' writing which the school should have pride in; and that is its good form and rich thought content, thought, which in an age of conformity displays the proverbial privilege of the individual to criticize.

On the other hand, Mr. Klang's writing displays awkward form and an obvious bulge of superficiality in his thinking which are unworthy of a paper put out by an educational institution.

Therefore, I suggest that if Mr. Davis' opinions are not those of the Student Body, the college or the Golden Gater, it should be pointed out that neither are Mr. Klang's.

ARTHUR FONSECA.

A long set of stairs are now being built on the high grade above the student parking lot. When these stairs are complete, students will be able to get from parking lot to their classes in less time.

Football fever wages on, and the number of undefeated teams diminishes each week. Pro football's only unbeaten eleven, the San Francisco 49ers, fell to the Chicago Bears, 31-27, last week.

BUT THERE'S ONE TEAM

There is one football team in Northern California, however, that few people, if any, think will end the season any other way than with a perfect record. The team is the Vallejo High School Apaches. Vallejo features a strong line and an all-time great in their runner Dick Bass. The Apaches have won seven straight games by overwhelming scores. Vallejo began their season with a crushing 41-0 win over Berkeley. Since then they have beaten Lodi, 40-7; McClymonds, 47-6; Salinas, 77-12; Drake, 52-0, and Napa, 53-0. And then just last week in a circus-type game the Apaches edged Tamalpais, 87-25.

FENCING CLUB ACTION

The Fencing Club recently participated in the Women's Novice Foil and the Men's Novice Saber. Marjorie Rothe took third place in the competition for women. Also fencing were Meridie Gordy and Josephine Regis. Taking place in the Men's Novice Saber was Allan Dorius. Marjorie Rothe is doing very well in her second semester of fencing.

BRITISH SAILORS VS. SOCCER TEAM

State's soccer team is going to play host to a British team on November 10, at 3:30, on the women's play field. This will mark the first time that a State team has ever met an opponent from any foreign country.

The British soccer team is, in actuality, members of a ship's crew. They play soccer in their off-duty time. All State students are invited to witness this international clash.

HOT NEWS FLASH

Bill Dorffi of the Gator wrestling team came rushing into the Gator office the other day. He was really running and the reason that he was really running was that he wanted to make the deadline, because he had a scoop, a real gem that just had to be printed.

It seems as though Bill cut his lip in practice, and the injury may hamper him for a good part of the season. "Gee," said Bill, "you've no idea how much it hurts when I eat, and it's even tougher to brush my teeth."

Gigantic Battle Looms at Arcata

By LEROY PACINI

Revived and snapping with a new confidence since their resounding 54-0 triumph over the University of Nevada Wolfpack last week end, State's newly polished Golden Gator machine invades Arcata tomorrow night with all intentions of keeping alive its 5-1 record against Humboldt State College.

The main problem facing the Gator squad right now is if Coach Joe Verducci can keep his speedy crew from thinking they're that good. In order to keep going at their present rate, which they hope will bring them their greatest season in history, the Gators must keep from being "upset," and nothing breeds the seeds of "upset" more than a 54-0 victory over a name team.

Should the gangrene of football, over-confidence, fail to set in, however, Coach Phil Sarboe's sturdy crew of Lumberjacks will have a tough time in attempting to handle the likes of such long gainers as quarterbacks Hoot Ellis and Dick Jackstadt, ends George Wehner and Dick Galliani, and probably the fastest backfield in Northern California collegiate circles: Harry and Walt Bremmond, Bob Springer, Dick Nave, Jim Boggan, Bob Rodrigo, Johnnie Sochor and Virg Owens.

If the rough-and-ready Humboldt Staters can hold this smooth operating offensive team they will still have to score on the likes of Wehner, end Bob Barron, tackles Dick McKenzie, Floyd Peters, Jack LaChapelle, guards Roy Nonella and Jess Jones, center Larry Conover, and deep-man Springer or whoever else happened to be around.

Service Frat to Organize Here

The first organization meeting of the national scouting service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, will be held on November 11.

All interested men students are invited to attend the meeting which will be held at 2401 Jackson street at 2 p. m.

The purpose of Alpha Phi Omega is "to assemble college men in the fellowship of Scout oath and law, to develop friendship and to promote service to humanity."

Anyone who is interested and is unable to attend the meeting should contact Mr. Roy Rusk.

Soccer Team Drops Close Game to Cal

San Francisco State's soccer team lost to the California Bears, 3 to 1, on October 30 at Berkeley for its third loss of the season. Oscar Rivas scored his second goal of the season and San Francisco State's only point in this game.

Junior Varsity captain Vince Raffello and his teammates were beaten, 1 to 0, by the California JV's in the preliminary game.

Future games are as follows: Nov. 6, Stanford, there; Nov. 13, USF, here; Nov. 20, San Jose State, here. All games begin at 10 a. m. on the field north of the Science building.

League standings today are:

Soph Class Plans Sierra Snow Trip

Offering to students the chance to have fun and earn college credit as well, the Sophomore class is sponsoring a snow trip to be held at State's ski lodge in the Sierras, February 2 to 6.

The entire cost of the trip, including transportation, insurance, room, and board, is only $25.00. Ski clothes and equipment are not included.

Free ski instruction will be given to those wishing to earn one-half unit of credit for P. E. 13.1 and one-half unit of credit is also offered for winter camping, Recreation 16.1 It is still possible for students to enroll in these courses.

Further information can be obtained from Leo Cramer, Molly Sullivan, or any of the Sophomore class officers.

Housing Co-ordinator Announces Apartments

Recently the Housing Office announced that while there are no current vacancies in the on-campus housing, many near-campus listings are available for both single and married students.

Further information may be obtained from Marilyn Bagnell, co-ordinator, in Room 168 in the Administration Building.

Nocturne Star Plays For Federation Dance

Under the co-sponsorship of the Music Federation and Beta Chi Delta, a dance will be held on Friday, November 12, in the Women's Gym from 10 to 1.

Music will be provided by Virgil Gonsalves, Nocturne recording star. According to Jack Pereira, the decorations featured will prove to be the best of the year.

Intramural Notes

By ROBERT JOHNSTON

Results of the basketball free throw and consecutive free throw contests held October 26, 27, and 28 in the gym were announced on October 29 by contest manager Dave Marcelli. There were four divisions: men and women students and men and women faculty.

In the free throw contest, the greatest number of shots made out of 25 allowed determined the winners. In the consecutive free throw contest, which ran concurrent with the other, the greatest number of shots made in a row was the goal, with the continued shooting allowed beyond shot number 25 until a shot was missed. In both contests where ties were made, play-offs will be held today. Like awards were not made for ties.

Glyden Mayfield and Tim Hammond tied for first in the men students' division with 24 baskets apiece. Lilly Malbas won the women students' section with 19. The faculty men were led by Dr. Williams with 20. Miss Gooch took the faculty women's division with 19.

For consecutive free throws, Glyden Mayfield and Bob Leibe each scored 35 in the men students' section while Dave Marcelli hit for 22. Lilly Malbas sunk eight in a row in the women students' division while Frances Piper and Carol Ghens each bucketed six consecutive shots. Dr. Williams hit for eight without a miss to cop the faculty men's title. Dr. Rowan sunk five in a row and Coach Harkness three. Miss Gooch scored eight in a row in the faculty women's section and Miss Clifton scored three.

FOOTBALL

Fraternity league manager Ernest Browning announced October 29 that Kappa Omega is leading his intramural touch football league with five wins and no losses.

Other Fraternity league standings are: Alpha Phi Alpha, two wins, two ties, one loss; Delta Phi Gamma, three wins, one tie, two losses; Alpha Zeta Sigma, one win, one tie, two losses; Sigma Pi Sigma, one win, three losses; and Rock A. C., no wins, four losses. The Kappa Omega team is managed by Larry Conover.

BOXING

Deadline for signing up boxers, boxing teams, and student coaches is next Friday, Nov. 12, John Barrie, intramural boxing tournament manager announced Monday.

Sign-up forms are provided on the Intramural Bulletin Board in the men's gym. Preliminaries will be held November 30.

All matches will be in the men's gym from 12 noon until 2 p. m. Barrie added that all campus groups may sponsor a team or student coach. Awards will be made to the outstanding group organization, the outstanding team coach, the outstanding tournament boxer, and the individual boxing champions.

THREE TOURNAMENTS

November 6, 9, and 10 are opening days for three intramural tournaments. On November 8 the soccer tournament begins, and tournament manager Don Ybarreta requested last Friday that foreign students as well as other interested students sign up today or Monday.

Robert Kelley asked for more sign-ups for his table tennis tournament during noon hours beginning November 9. He stressed that this tournament is for novice and advanced classes, men and women, and that games will be scheduled for players' convenience.

Horseshoe tournament manager Mike Paige will hold matches at 2 p. m. on November 10, 11, and 12, and asked that men and women students sign up individually or as teams.

Journalism Frat Initiates Group

Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalistic fraternity formally initiated 13 new members from San Francisco State College last Sunday.

Initiated in a special ceremony in President Leonard's conference room were LeVell Holmes, John P. Maxwell, Adrienne Ayers, Donna Salsa, Loretta Krebs, Marian Nicholas, Gurston Blass, Maurice K. Silverman Jr., Charles Mendoza, Henry Cunningham, David Krug, Edith Gould and Carol Bondshu.

New honorary member Bert Phillips and new faculty co-sponsor Leo V. Young were introduced.

Following the initiation, the newly initiated were honored at a banquet.

Nevada Swamped 54-0 By Strong Gator Team

By HANK CUNNINGHAM,
Assistant Sports Editor

Proof that the S. F. State football juggernaut is back on the victory road was registered last Friday night when the Purple and Gold smothered Nevada University, 54-0.

Some 5200 spectators were on hand in Cox Stadium to watch the hapless Wolfpack rock and reel before the Gators' relentless display of power.

FIRST PERIOD 0-0

Despite the fact that the first period ended with the scoreboard unmarked, the local squad was never threatened.

At the beginning of the second quarter Nevada boasted possession of the ball. Moments later, however, the Wolfpack's QB, Ed Jesse, uncorked a pass that was intercepted by Gator Harry Bremmond on the Nevada 4. Bremmond returned it to the 21-yard line. State moved the ball to the 1-yard stripe when Ellis passed, first to Bremmond for 15, and then to Rodrigo for five more. Nevada, fighting stubbornly, held for one more down before Bremmond was able to smash over for the initial score. Rodrigo converted and State led 7-0.

NEVADA FUMBLES

After the kick-off Nevada fumbled on the second play, and State took over on the Reno 25. Seven plays later, after having one score nullified by a penalty, the Gators sent Dick Nave scurrying across the big white line for six more points. Dick Jackstadt, who replaced Ellis at quarterback, kicked the extra point with but six minutes gone in the second quarter.

Once again, following the kick-off, Nevada found themselves stopped cold on three successive plays. Ken Fujii, who had shouldered the signal-calling chores for the visitors, then elected to punt. His first two efforts were wasted when his team was twice penalized. Standing on his own eleven, Fujii finally got the kick away. Bob Springer, State halfback, electrified the crowd when he received the ball on his own 45 and scampered all the way for the score. Jackstadt again converted.

BOGGAN SCORES FROM 17

By this time the story was getting old but, unfortunately for Nevada, it was far from over. Once again the Blue and Silver received the kick-off, bogged down and were forced to punt. Three tries later State connected when Jackstadt passed to Bremmond, who lacerated to Springer on the 31. Springer bulled his way to the 17 before being hauled down. Jackstadt then handed the pigskin to Jim Boggan who pranced into the end zone for another TD. Jackstadt again split the goal posts and the fourth chapter of this sad, sad tale was ended.

The final score of the half came just before the gun sounded. The Wolfpack's QB, Ken Fujii, took to the airways in an desperate effort to get into the scoring column. Jim Boggan, however, then proceeded to make a complete nuisance of himself by intercepting the pass and racing 41 yards for the tally. Needless to say, Mr. Jackstadt's conversion attempt was good and the half ended with State on top, 35-0.

WEHNER SCORES ON PASS

The start of the third frame saw Nevada launch an attack of their own. Though it was a noble effort, it was soon crushed by the Gator eleven. After the usual punt, State moved to their own 35-yard stripe where Hoot Ellis decided to pass. The well-aimed aerial was gathered in by George Wehner on the Nevada 41, and scored. Rodrigo's conversion made the score 42-0.

Following a see-saw battle, most of which took place in Nevada territory, the Wolfpack again tried to strike back through the air. Jesse, who had passed himself into one embarrassing situation after another, did it again when his toss to Dave Lowe was deflected into the arms of Hoot Ellis on the Nevada 48. In eight plays the Gators scored their seventh touchdown. The conversion was missed and the score remained 48-0.

79-YARD PASS PLAY

The end of the slaughter came in the last period when Jackstadt faded to his own 21-yard mark, and unleashed a long pass to Bob Springer. Springer took it on the 46, and carried it into the end zone. A bad pass from center foiled the extra point and the score remained unchanged for the remainder of the contest.

Congratulations

The Board of Directors was happy to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Bob Horn on the arrival of the baby daughter, Karen Lynette, 8 lbs., 3 ozs., was born October 3, 1954.

Jayvees Favored Over Marin JC

State's promising J. V. football team plays a strong Marin J. C. tonight at Marin, 8 o'clock.

Although the "Baby" Gators handed Marin a whipping last year, and have compiled a fine 3-1 record this season, the game still looms as a big one. If the J. V.'s get by this one, they could go on to one of their most successful seasons.

One of the big factors in the Gators' quest for their third straight victory, is the fact they drew a bye last week and will be rested for this one.

Fullback Levi Mason, halfback Gene Larson, and quarterback Ray Vallejo and "Primo" Chavez continue to impress in practice, and could pile up points against Marin. In the line, standouts have been end Joe Muso, cented Dan Unruh, tackle Hal Athon and guard Harry Greenberg.

After the Marin game comes the one with San Quentin, whom the varsity beat in their first game of the season, 26-13. The "Shut-Ins" are no pushovers, and could give the Gators an argument. The game will take place on Armistice day.

VARSITY SPLASHERS DEFEAT CAL AGGIES

Coach Hal Harden's water polo team defeated the California Aggies team, 10 to 7, in SFSC's pool on October 27. Jules Voerg made six of the Gator goals, Norman Cady put in three, and Maurice O'Roke added one. Dan Matarangas and Charles Zettler split the goalie position to hold the Cal Aggies down.

Facing a tough, experienced California JV team on October 29, the local team bowed to superior ball handling, 12-1. Norman Cady scored SFSC's only goal of the game.

Leibe, Six Vets Return for '54-'55 Basketball Season

Bob Leibe, one of S. F. State's all-time basketball greats, will be leading the cagers throughout the 1954-55 campaign. Leibe has not played a complete season with the Gators since 1951. Last year, after returning from the armed forces, Leibe was declared ineligible and spent the season playing for the Y.M.I.

This year's basketball team, defending co-champs of the Far Western Conference, has seven returning veterans in all. Among these vets is Henry Fort, a sophomore and a first stringer last year.

Willie Dunbar, Jack Morgan, and Dan Caldwell are also back to serve another year under Coach Dan Farmer. Ron Rosenberg and Myron Green, up from the J. V.'s, are counted upon to give the Purple and Gold additional experience and needed depth.

Two newcomers, Don Hopkins and Gary Kenny, have been looking good as they work out in the gym. A 6-foot, 6-inch center, Bennett Mann, could be a big help to State before the season is over, despite his lack of experience.

The hoopsters began practice in the gym Monday. There are still vacancies on the team, and all those interested in playing the game should come out for practice now.

HOME, SWEET HOMECOMING

A great number of people have been asking me lately, "What is Homecoming?" Yesterday, for example, as I walked from my house to the establishment of Mr. Sigafos, the local lepidopterist where I had left a half dozen luna moths to be mounted—a distance of no more than three blocks—I'll wager that well over a thousand people stopped me and said, "What is Homecoming?"

Well, what with company coming for dinner and the cook down with a recurrence of backbone fever, I could not tarry to answer their questions. "Read my column next week," I cried to them. "I'll tell all about Homecoming." With that I brushed past and raced home to baste the mallard and apply poultices to the cook, who, despite my unending ministrations, expired quietly during the night, a woman in her prime, scarcely 108 years old. Though her passing grieved me, it was some satisfaction to be able to grant her last wish—to be buried at sea—which is no small task when you live in Pierre, South Dakota.

With the dinner guests fed and the cook laid to her watery rest, I put out the cat and turned to the problem of Homecoming.

First of all, let us define Homecoming. Homecoming is a weekend when old graduates return to their alma maters to see a football game, ingest great quantities of food and drink, and inspect each other's bald spots.

This occasion is marked by the singing of old songs, the slapping of old backs, and the frequent utterance of such outcries as "Harry, you old polecat!" or "Harry, you old rooster!" or "Harry, you old wombat!" or "Harry, you old mandrill!" All old grads are named Harry.

During Homecoming the members of the faculty behave with unaccustomed animation. They laugh and smile and pound backs and keep shouting, "Harry, you old retriever!" These unscholarly actions are performed in the hope that the old grads, in a transport of bonhomie, will endow a new geology building.

The old grads, however, are seldom seduced. By game time on Saturday, their backs are so sore, their eyes so bleary, and their livers so sluggish that it is impossible to get a kind word out of them, much less a new geology building. "Hmph!" they snort as the home team completes a 101 yard march to a touchdown. "Call that football? Why, back in my day they'd have been over on the first down. By George, football was football back in those days—not this namby pamby girls game that passes for football today. Why, look at that bench. Fifty substitutes sitting there! Why, in my day, there were eleven men on a team and that was it. When you broke a leg, you got taped up and went right back in. Why, I remember the big game against State. Harry Wallaby, our star quarterback, was killed in the third quarter. I mean he was pronounced dead. But did that stop old Harry? Not on your tinfoil! Back in he went and kicked the winning drop-kick in the last four seconds of play, dead as he was. Back in my day, they played football, by George!"

Everything, say the old grads, was better back in their day—everything except one. Even the most unreconstructed of the old grads has to admit that back in his day they never had a smoke like today's vintage Philip Morris—never anything so mild and pleasing, day in day out, at study or at play, in sunshine or in shower, on grassy bank or musty taproom, afoot or ahorse, at home or abroad, any time, any weather, anywhere.

I take up next another important aspect of Homecoming—the decorations in front of the fraternity house. Well do I remember one Homecoming of my undergraduate days. The game was against Princeton. The Homecoming slogan was "Hold That Tiger!" Each fraternity house built a decoration to reflect that slogan, and on the morning of the game a group of dignitaries toured Fraternity Row to inspect the decorations and award a prize for the best.

The decoration chairman at our house was an enterprising young man named Rex Sigafos, nephew of the famous lepidopterist. Rex surveyed Fraternity Row, came back to our house and said, "All the other houses are building cardboard cages with cardboard tigers inside of them. We need to do something different—and I've got it. We're going to have a real cage with a real tiger inside of it—a snarling, clawing, slashing, real live tiger!"

"Crikey!" we breathed. "But where will you get him?"

"I'll borrow him from the zoo," said Rex, and sure enough, he did. Well sir, you can imagine what a sensation it was on Homecoming morning. The judges drove along nodding politely at cardboard tigers in cardboard cages and suddenly they came to our house. No sham beast in a sham cage here! No sir! A real tiger in a real cage—a great striped jungle killer who slashed and roared and snarled and dashed himself against the bars of his cage with manic fury.

There can be no doubt that we would have easily taken first prize had not the tiger knocked out the bars of the cage and leaped into the official car and devoured Mr. August Schlemmer, the governor of the state, Mr. Wilson Ardsley Devereaux, president of the university, Dr. O. P. Gransmire, author of A Treasury of the World's Great Southpaws: An Anthology of Left Hand Literature, Mr. Harrison J. Teed, commissioner of weights and measures, Mrs. Amy Dorr Nesbitt, inventor of the clarinet, Mr. Jarrett Thrum, world's 135 pound lacrosse champion, Mr. Peter Bennett Hough, editor of the literary quarterly Spasm, and Mrs. Ora Wells Anthony, first woman to tunnel under the North Platte River.

Partisans Club Meets Today

An organizational meeting of the newly formed "Partisans' Club" will be held today at 3 p. m., in the Faculty Dining Room (B) to plan future activities and to elect a "provisional government."

According to the club's "test constitution," the Partisan Club is organized for the non-partisan promotion of partisan political activity; for making available information regarding political issues; for encouraging investigation and discussion of current problems of national, state, and local concern; and for co-operation with existing campus organizations in achieving these goals."

Yearbook Plans Changes for '55

The Franciscan, S. F. State's yearbook, promises to be an even bigger and better book this year, according to Jack Lynch, sales manager of the Franciscan for 1955. Lynch adds that the new Franciscan will have more pages, more pictures, a new format, and a completely different and new cover.

In order to help the editors plan even more improvements, Jack Lynch urges every student to order his Franciscan immediately. One dollar will reserve the book for next semester and enable the staff to plan for a certain number of books and also plan for student approval.

Golden Gator Jazz

By TOMMY HARRIS

ENTRE JAZZ CONCERT: November 10, 1954, is the date, Creative Arts Main Auditorium is the place, noon 'till 2 is the time for YOU and YOU to make this gig. Who's making the scene? Wow man, a crazy group of cats, like four swinging little groups and a C-R-A-Z-Y big band.

On hand for this cool session, this second in a series under the auspices of the Music Federation, will be the Virgil Gonsalves Sextet; the Jack Pereira Quintet; the Howie Dudune Quartet; the Pete Dovidio Quartet, with Pete featured on clarinet; and the Rudy Salvini Big Band.

GONSALVES ON NOCTURNE

What's happening with these cats man, do they swing ??? Do they swing? Man, they swing and sing. V. G. has recently cut a LP for Nocturne. (Get this cat, man. Nocturne. Sounds like a ZONK scene.) Further previewing the cats on the session, there'll be Howie Dudune on Tenor. This cat really swings. Last Thursday, this writer had the pleasure of hearing him for the first time and I must say, he worked real cool on LADY BE GOOD.

The Jack Pereira Quintet, with Jack on Vibes, is an experimental group which uses a Symphonic Harp in lieu of a Piano. The Harpist is Jack Nebergall, who has been working the "junior longhair set." Believe me, he is one of the few local musicians who can cater to the "tea and crumpet" set and still manage to wig out all of the swinging "TEA and jumpet" set. (Smile.)

SALVINI, FORMER STATER

Rudy Salvini's Big Band features the compositions and arrangement of Jerry Cournoyer. Myopia, an original composition, should help all squares to "see" what's happening. Kathy Bailey, lovely female vocalist with the Big Band, will pictorialize vocally MOONLIGHT IN VERMONT. Rudy, a former member of S. F. State, and the Big Band will be the feature group for the Concert. Some of his outstanding sidemen include Jerry Dodgson on Alto; Van Hughes on Bone and Howie Dudune on Tenor. WOW, t-o-o-o-o-o much!!!!

People we expect to see there: Dorinda Dawley, a swinging little chick who really digs. LADY BE GOOD! Elizabeth, my Elizabeth, I sure want to see you there, 'cause baby I sure dig you. Who knows? Maybe there will be LOVE & THE WEATHER. Hope so . . . See you at the concert? Crazy. Later . . . TCH.

Colleges Upheld On Entrance Ban

Cal Poly's around practical arts. Those not eligible for one college's requirements may be eligible for another's. I see no reason for uniform requirements."

Leonard would like to have the present regulation changed to conform with the forthcoming report of the State College Presidents' Committee for Entrance of which he is chairman. "If possible," Leonard says, "this should be done by January so that it can be applied in February at the beginning of the spring semester."

All presidents in the State Department of Education will meet to discuss the entrance requirement issue November 10, 11, and 12.

possibilities of establishing a student lounge in the library.

As the second half of the meeting Golden Gator Editor Keith Pinckney explained to what use ASSFC funds are put. He then took the board on a tour of the print shop where the Gator is published.
